

TSL

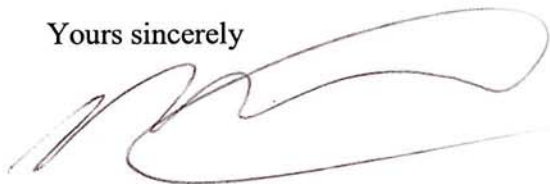

To whom it may concern

TSL Education is nationally recognised as a high-profile organisation, responsible for organising high quality teachers' conference events for the Primary and Secondary education sector. We always seek to engage only those seminar speakers of the highest standard and who are generally regarded by the teaching profession as leaders in their field.

Dr Mark Biddiss has been engaged by myself and TSL Education to deliver teachers' seminar sessions at most of the annual TES Primary Teachers Conference events all over the UK since 2002. He has to date delivered regular seminar sessions each year on novel approaches to teaching science and maths, as well as seminars on the effects of teachers' expectations on pupil attainment and, in the 2008 London event, on the brain and accelerated learning.

Mark's sessions always prove popular and, from teachers' feedback, are well received by those attending. Based on such continuing positive feedback and the high quality of Mark's work and growing reputation nationally, TSL Education are happy to continue engaging Mark to speak at our annual conference events, and would therefore recommend Mark to other potential clients.

Yours sincerely
