Re: Reference

Since 2001 I have engaged and worked with Mark directly on several science and maths-themed local authority education projects, in both Primary and Secondary levels. I have also engaged Mark to deliver pupils' and teachers' CPD sessions for the London Challenge Gifted & Talented pupil project.

I have always found Mark's novel, innovative and engaging approach to science and maths teaching, and to accelerated learning and thinking skills generally, to be of the highest standard, both in his work directly with pupils themselves, and in his teachers' CPD training sessions.

Mark always receives very positive feedback from both the pupils and the teachers. The feedback from teachers to Mark's CPD training sessions in particular makes it very clear that Mark is a popular, engaging and entertaining trainer, who delivers high quality and practical content, totally suitable and applicable to the classroom.

I thus have no hesitation in recommending Mark to other clients.

Yours sincerely
